The government, my government should sure they understand that the consumer is not harmed by Microsoft it's products are cheaper than and better ever. Is Microsoft not allowed to compete, it should be allowed to compete and those cry babies Sun, Oracle and AOL will just have to make better products rather than lobby with governments about a competitor - Microsoft. They are trying the exact same thing in Europe and I hope our legislators see through this smoke screen and see the facts Microsoft has superior products and the market proves that.

I feel the government should not pursue any further actions against Microsoft. I believe the terms-which have met or gone beyond the findings of the Court of Appeals ruling-are reasonable and fair to all parties involved. This settlement represents the best opportunity for Microsoft and the industry to move forward. However, the settlement is not guaranteed until after the review ends and the District Court determines whether the terms are indeed in the public interest.
